Vauation Decline Will Hold Property Taxes to $16,102,117 This Year

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Taxpayers of the four Quad-City area townships will be billed for a total of $16,102,117 in 1970 taxes, payable this year. Of the amount, $15,686,351 in locally extended taxes will be payable to collectors of Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau townships who are expected to begin collections within the next 30 days.

The balance of $435,765 is in taxes charged against railroad lines operating in the four-township area. Railroad taxes are not collected by township collectors, but are paid directly to the county treasurer.

The overall tax bill, including railroad charges, is a decline of $246,123 below the tax extension of all four townships for the 1969 tax year, payable during the 1970 collection period.

Actually, the total local extension of $15,686,351 is a drop of $209,225 below the figure of the previous year, but railroad tax charges offset part of this due to an increase of $13,102 over the 1969 railroad tax bill.

Tax Books Completed

Total tax extension computations became available yesterday following completion of new tax books for Nameoki and Venice townships by the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz at Edwardsville. Granite City and Chouteau township tax extensions were announced earlier.

Miss Hotz said the total local tax extension for Nameoki township taxpayers amounts to $1,763,451, while the railroad tax bill for Nameoki township totals $88,075, for a total overall tax billing of $1,851,526.

For Venice Township, the local tax bill is $3,030,963. The

Jas. Estes Restored to Chouteau Highway Post

James L. Estes, 124 Voight Place, has been appointed highway commissioner of Chouteau Township to fill a vacancy created by Estes' removal from the same office by the Chouteau Township Board a month ago.

Supervisor Walter Sparks said the board agreed to replace Estes in the highway commissioner's post following conferences between attorneys for Estes and the town board. Estes' appointment was announced yesterday following a regular town board meeting Tuesday night.

Estes, who first was elected highway commissioner in 1967, was re-elected to the office for a second term in the township election April 6. Early last month, the town board voted to nullify Estes' election and declared the office vacant on grounds that he had failed to qualify for the post.

The board's action at that time was based on charges that Estes failed to file his oath of office within the period specified by state statutes.

Adopted Resolution

Town board members adopted a resolution pointing out that Estes had ten days after certification of his election in which to file his oath, and that he was "negligent in his duty to do so."

Board members planned to fill the vacancy by appointment in a regular meeting on May

Sale of GC City Flags Continuing

A limited supply of Granite City flags remains available at the office of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities, 1831 Delmar Ave., at the price of $12.

The flag project was initiated in 1969. At the request of Mayor Donald Partney, the Chamber of Commerce assumed the responsibility for designing and producing an appropriate flag for Granite City.

The mayor had received a request from a Granite City soldier in Vietnam for a flag to display with his unit.

A contest for designing a flag was conducted in cooperation with the Granite City school district, with Miss Pam Schaffer, a Granite City High School student, winning.

Her design was accepted as the official flag for Granite City, and the Chamber arranged for them to be manufactured.

Many of the colorful flags already have been sold and are displayed at public buildings, offices and business places.

A special flag display has been placed in the main lobby of the A. O. Smith Corp. auto frame plant in Granite City.

Needed for 'Plant' Growth—the Sun of Community Zeal To Attract Business Matching the Production Capacity

The Quad-City area has facilities to produce more goods than it is being called upon to do by the present volume of customers' orders.

Is there a formula to assure permanent, profitable manufacturing operations?

Richard J. Lich, president of the Castings Division of General Steel Industries, believes that the answer is a combination of three positive factors—the dynamic economy of America, plus skilled and dedicated workers and able employers.

The Quad-Cities have such ingredients in abundance and need only to "put it all together" through concerted community interest and action, he is convinced.

He has outlined his thoughts in the following public talk: "My brief comments are entitled 'The Parable of the Five Plants.'"

"These five plants are all growing together in a good temperate climate conducive to healthy growth.

"The first plant is underdeveloped. It is growing in rich soil and receiving lots of sunlight but is not receiving sufficient water," Lich explained.

"The second plant is also underdeveloped. It is receiving lots of sunlight and water but is growing in poor soil.

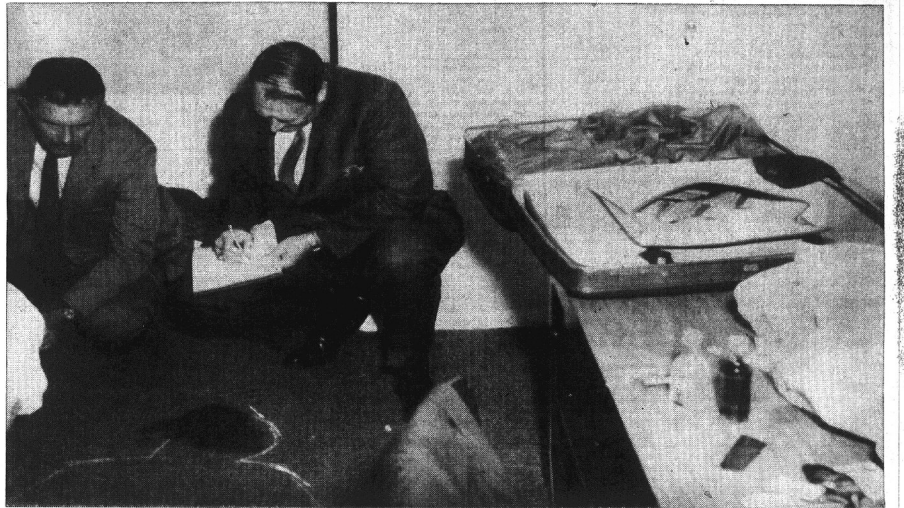

"The third plant, like the first two, is also underdeveloped. It is growing in rich soil and receiving lots of water but insufficient sunlight because the sunlight is falling on other plants which overshadow it.

"The fourth plant has just died. It had been undernourished like the first three. Heavy rains had come and its weak root structure could not hold the rich soil which then washed away.

"The remaining barren soil could not henceforth hold the

Cairns Witness On Dust, Fumes

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Donald F. Cairns, vice-president of Granite City Steel Co., was recalled to the stand yesterday as the sole witness to testify during the fourth day of state environmental hearings into alleged air pollution by the steel company. A heavy fine is being sought.

Cairns was called to complete prosecution questioning by Herbert Caplan, chief of environmental control for the Illinois attorney general, at the opening of Wednesday's session.

Initial testimony from Cairns was heard May 18, the opening day of the hearings. His testimony was interrupted, with Harlie Love, technical coordinator for environment systems at GC Steel, testifying May 19.

On May 20, Professor Erwin C. Hoelcher, technical secretary of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, was the sole witness and the hearings were adjourned until Tuesday. Tuesday's session was cancelled because of EPA board meetings in Chicago and Springfield.

Acting to End Pollution

Cairns reiterated the steel company's plans to clean up pollution-causing processes. Caplan questioned him about pollution quantities emitted from various sections of the plant.

He asked if Cairns was familiar with statistics published by the U.S. Public Health Service that, on the average, coke ovens produce 42.8 pounds of dust per day per oven estimating that with 137 ovens GC Steel might contribute 5,600 pounds of dust, plus 64,800 pounds of sulfur compounds from three coke oven batteries each day.

Cairns replied that he is not familiar with the figures and could not testify as to their validity concerning the operations of GC Steel.

Statistics Cited

Caplan said statistics would indicate that coke ovens here generate 38 million square feet of coke oven gas per day, equivalent to 6,200 tons of sulfur dioxide per year when reduced. Cairns said he does not know how many tons of sulfur dioxide are produced here each year but that it could be calculated.

23 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Insurance Cost Hikes Bridge Fund

The Venice City Council adopted a preliminary McKinley toll bridge budget for the 1971-72 bond year totaling $381,873 during a meeting Tuesday night.

The budget, for the fiscal year beginning in October, is about $25,000 higher than last year but includes a $25,000 increase in the insurance account, according to Mayor John E. Lee.

He added that it reflects some salary increases and some reductions.

The budget, approved by the consulting engineering firm of Hardesty & Hanover, includes $100,000 for insurance, $35,000 for Missouri taxes, $7,200 for the chief toll collector, $73,500 for 11 toll collectors and $32,340 for office salaries.

Mayor Lee announced that city officials were to appear before the Missouri Tax Commission today regarding taxes on the bridge.

Road Maintenance Paid

The council approved an agreement with the state highway division to maintain state routes in the city during the year for a total of $1,171. It is $322 more than received by the city last year.

Four volunteer firemen were authorized to attend the annual Illinois Fire School June 10-13. $150 in expenses allowed. They are Gerald Sugas, Willie Dumas, Marion Gray and Thomas Leonard.

The First Baptist Church of Venice was authorized to hold a parade at 10 a.m. Saturday to advertise its Vacation Bible School which will be conducted from 9 a.m. to noon June 7-18.

The council authorized issuance of a building permit to Arthur L. Bromley, 601 Fourth St., for a room addition to cost $800.

Arrest Follows Brutal Slaying

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

An arbitrator on design revisions for the new St. Elizabeth Hospital wing was bludgeoned to death with a soda bottle in his room at the Travelodge motor hotel here between 9:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. Tuesday.

A Madison man, arrested in St. Louis, is charged with murder.

The victim was James Dunning, 63, St. Paul, Minn., assistant manager of the Pneumatic Tube Department of the Standard Conveyor Co. of North St. Paul.

He had flown to St. Louis and rented a car to drive to the motel to attend a session of the arbitration board.

His body was found after 9 a.m. Wednesday by a maid in his third-floor room. He was lying on the floor at the foot of the bed and was clad in a pajama top.

A large pool of blood from head wounds was on the floor. He was pronounced dead by Deputy Coroner Edward Wernert.

Arrested in Bar

Arrested in a theater bar in downtown St. Louis at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday was Junior Lee Puckett, 21, of 2124 Alton Ave., Madison.

Police said robbery was the apparent motive in Mr. Dunning's death. His wallet was missing.

Puckett had been arrested only on minor charges in the past, local police said.

The Granite City detective bureau and uniformed division conducted an immediate investigation.

The police praised Casper Nighossian, assistant state's attorney, two staff members of the Illinois Crime Laboratory who arrived shortly after the crime from Springfield, and St. Louis police for their cooperation.

Numerous Interviews

Police interviewed numerous persons in the vicinity of the Travelodge and the neighboring Imperial 400 motel and checked area taverns. It was learned that the suspect had taken a taxicab to St. Louis.

An all-points bulletin was issued, and St. Louis police were given a description of the suspect. After Puckett was seen in the bar, Granite City detectives joined St. Louis police in making the arrest.

An autopsy conducted yesterday afternoon showed that Mr. Dunning died of blows to the head wielded by a soda bottle. Police said the victim apparently was struck in the head twice, causing several cuts, in addition to superficial cuts from broken glass.

Puckett is expected to waive extradition proceedings today and be brought to Madison County. The murder warrant was issued by Chief Circuit Judge William Beatty of Granite City.

Pontoon Beach Man Sought in Shooting

A first degree murder warrant has been issued against a Pontoon Beach man in the fatal shooting of St. Clair County Deputy Sheriff Loren Rehmer Monday night in the restroom of a Freeburg restaurant.

Ardell Smith, 4734 Lake Drive, Box 7, is named in the warrant.

It's departments said they had failed to locate him this morning. A woman who had been living with him is reportedly in custody, but no charges have been filed against her.

MORE ABOUT Cairns

the figure during the lunch recess, Cairns replied, "No."

"Are you refusing to produce those figures?" Cairns asked. "No, it just couldn't be calculated in that short a time," Cairns answered.

He estimated that it would take at least a half day to complete "reasonably accurate" calculations on the tons of sulfur dioxide produced in GC Steel coke ovens per year.

The prosecutor asked if the coke was being pushed from the ovens on a seven-minute cycle, one oven being opened and emptied every seven minutes, and Cairns answered that one oven is emptied approximately every seven minutes.

Presents Letter as Evidence

"If pushing was increased to every 14 minutes would there not be a 50% reduction in emissions," Cairns asked. The witness said, "Not necessarily."

Cairns, producing a letter from Cairns to the EPA in which he had said a 14-minute push could reduce emissions 50%, submitted it as evidence.

Cairns was asked about the frequency of a "green push," when coke is emptied before all volatile gases have been driven off. "It is very abnormal," he replied.

"We strive for no green pushes, so one is abnormal," Cairns said. "If there is equipment to detect when coke is ready for pushing and the witness said, "No, only the knowledge of the coke plant operators."

Several Possible Causes

He added that a green push can result from several causes other than pushing too early, such as poor coal or a poor mixture of coal.

Cairns attempted to show negligence in the grading, mixing, testing or handling of coal, but Cairns said these are causes out of the control of the company and Cairns conceded the point.

He then asked if required up-set reports had been submitted to the EPA and Cairns replied that he was sure for 1970.

Upset reports are submitted annually to report all breakdowns, shutdowns and partial shutdowns of air pollution control equipment during the preceding year.

Cairns asked if no such report had been sent in 1967 through 1970 and Cairns replied that, under unusual circumstances, he has called the EPA to report specific incidents but not other annual reports had been filed.

The EPA ordinances allow certain shutdowns of equipment if such a report has been filed. Cairns said that since no such reports were filed until the 1970 year, the local plant could be called illegal.

Recycling Allegation

Cairns charged that the company has used recycled water to quench hot coke when it is removed from the coke oven.

"Is one of the methods of removing contaminants from water to use it in the quench station so that the pollutants could go up in the (steam) plume?" Cairns said he did not know.

Cairns asked about a survey conducted by the Sverdrup & Parcel consulting firm on water quality at the plant. Cairns said he had not seen a report of the survey findings and he did not know if it had been completed.

Cairns asked if results of all surveys concerning water quality as it affected air pollution could be produced during the lunch break.

Hearing Examiner Samuel Lawton Jr. adjourned the session for lunch and Cairns returned with several surveys which were not introduced into evidence yesterday.

After lunch, Cairns grilled Cairns on various processes allegedly causing pollution, including the sintering plant, pug mill, sintering conveyor belt, blast furnaces and basic oxygen furnaces.

Says Report Not Required

Cairns said no reports of emissions from these facilities were sent to the EPA and contained several times that none was required.

The prosecutor also asked if a permit had been obtained from the Illinois Pollution Control Board before installation of a new conveyor belt in the sintering plant in recent years and the witness replied that no permit was obtained.

He admitted that several repairs had been made on the two blast furnaces since 1967 and no permits had been obtained for that work.

Cairns questioned Cairns about operation of the basic oxygen furnace, which converts iron into steel by introducing oxygen to burn out impurities.

He asked if pollution is emitted which is not captured by the collecting hood and cleaned by an electrostatic precipitator.

Visible Emissions

"In the first few seconds of the blow (when the oxygen is introduced) there is a visible emission of 30 to 90 seconds," Cairns said. He said the reason for the lag is that collection equipment does not operate until sensors pick up the proper signals and the signals are transmitted to the fan and other collection equipment.

"It is such that the initial rush of the blow overcomes the responsiveness of that equipment," he added.

Cairns asked if the problem could not be avoided by introducing steam 60 to 90 seconds before the blow to activate the collection equipment and Cairns answered, "No."

Cairns spent the remainder of yesterday's session attempting to show that increased production at the plant in recent years has forced the overtaxing of the coke ovens and sintering plant to keep pace with more iron being produced in the blast furnaces.

"Not Necessarily"

Cairns stopped each foray by answering, "Not necessarily."

He explained that increased production allows the use of more scrap iron and not as much sinter (coke and iron ore fused into particles or clinkers) or coke is needed.

He also said the coke ovens and sintering plant are working at close to capacity constantly and that increased production from these facilities would be impossible.

The hearings are scheduled to resume at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, June 10, when Cairns is expected to complete his questioning of Cairns and defense attorneys John Sullivan of Chicago and Randall Robertson of Granite City will cross-examine him.

If subsequent hearings are necessary, they will continue on June 11 and June 17 and 18.

111 Drivers Cited, Lack City Stickers

Granite City traffic division police opened a crackdown on city motorists who have failed to obtain city vehicle licenses and stickers yesterday.

With roadblocks set up in various parts of the city, 111 drivers were issued tickets on Wednesday, and an additional 29 received citations by mid-morning today.

Usual fines are $5 plus $3 cost upon presentation of a receipt for a $3 auto license.

Senate OK's Non-Public School Funds

A controversial Illinois private school aid bill passed its last major obstacle Wednesday as the Senate voted 34-23 for passage.

The House is expected to routinely approve the Senate bill since a duplicate bill was approved earlier in the House.

The bill provides $20.5 million for private schools to be distributed at a rate of $60 a year for each elementary school pupil and $80 per year for each high school student.

A second bill, which passed 31-27 in the Senate, grants $4.5 million to elementary and secondary non-public school low-income students, and a third bill appropriates $5 million to nonpublic schools for developing innovative elementary and secondary school education programs. It passed 34-21.

In a separate action two drunk driving bills came under attack in Springfield Tuesday as a strong House bill requiring drivers suspected of being drunk to take a breath test or lose his license for six months, had an amendment tacked on to apply only after an accident.

The amendment was added by the House and the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Republicans said that they would rather have no bill passed than a "watered down" version and Gov. Ogilvie is not expected to sign the measure.

Another strong bill is being proposed in the Senate against drunk drivers but has yet to clear the amendment stage and may fall prey to the same attack as the House bill.

By a vote of 58-81, the House Tuesday rejected a measure to return an anti-Vietnam bill from the deadlocked House Executive Committee for a full chamber hearing and vote.

The bill would authorize the state to file suit before the Supreme Court on behalf of those who feel their constitutional rights are infringed upon by forced service in Vietnam. It is similar to bills passed in Massachusetts and Minnesota.

A bill to abolish the state tax on food and medicine met its death by three votes in the House Tuesday as only 86 votes were needed to bring the bill out of the Revenue Committee and 89 votes were needed for success.

GC Pupils Sweep Southern Ill. Posture Poster Awards

The Tri-Cities Chiropractic Physicians Association, in conjunction with the Illinois Chiropractic Society, Southern Illinois District, announced this week the winners of the annual "posture poster contest" conducted by the Illinois Chiropractic Society.

Participation is limited to students in the fifth and sixth grades of the state's public and parochial schools. A display of the contest trophies has been set up at the First Granite City National Bank. Announcement of this year's winners was made by Dr. E. W. Walton and Dr. J. E. Weed, who received notice from the statewide chiropractic society at a district meeting in Centralia.

Granite City made a "sweep" of the awards, they noted, adding, "We are particularly pleased with the wide acceptance and understanding demonstrated in the posters with reference to posture and health, as well as their artistic content." The winners were: First place, Stuart Williamson, 5th grade, Logan School; Second place, Randy Day, 5th grade, Logan School (principal) Mrs. Eva Meier; Third place, Mike Novacich, 6th grade, St. Margaret Mary School; Fourth place, Jane Hoelter, 6th grade, St. Margaret Mary School (principal, Sister Mary Monica).

Other members of the local Chiropractic Association, Dr.

W. B. Heide, Dr. Frank Shipley, Dr. E. L. Strobel and Dr. John Vasiloff, were so pleased with the Granite City students "runaway" with all awards that they have invited all chiropractors in the Southern Illinois District to be present at the awards presentation. The ceremony will be held at a regular meeting of the Granite City board of education Monday evening, June 7.

In addition to the sweep of the trophy competition, 18 certificates were earned by other Granite City School children. Certificate winners were: David Lopez, Raymond Zozne and Bridget Cope of St. Joseph's Elementary School; John Robinson, David Blackwell, Mark Lange, Scott Gardner, David Willis and Tom Cottrell of Logan School; Kathy Link, Mary Zotti, Brian Shulte, Kenny Prazma, Jane Hoelter, Wendy Champion, Tim Sloss, David Blum and Janet Hoelter of St. Margaret Mary School.

Surveys by the White House Conference for Child Health have shown that 80% of all children have poor posture. The Illinois Chiropractic Society's annual banquet, held in Chicago, plains that the posture contest is designed to educate children in the importance of good posture, and its relation to the spine and to health. Doran Dembski has won the grand finalist award in the 1971 Illinois Chiropractic Society correct posture poster contest. The winner is a fifth grade student at Our Land of Ransom School in Niles. A trophy and a $100 U. S. savings bond were presented to her, at the Illinois Chiropractic Society's annual banquet, held in Chicago.

Area Agencies to Join Emergency Network

The Madison County Sheriff's Department and the Venice Police Department will be among the first agencies in the state to join a statewide emergency radio network. Broadcast and receiving units, supplied by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission grant, will arrive within the next few weeks.

Each of the approximately 900 law enforcement agencies in the state will be supplied with the units by the end of the year. The units will enable many small town departments to have radio contact with neighboring agencies for the first time, according to Herbert Brown, director of the Department of Law Enforcement.

The county sheriff's department will receive 37 units under the plan and Venice will be given four units. Other departments which will receive units soon are Wood River, Highland, Glen Carbon, Maryville, Fairview Heights, Saugeat, Alorton, Fairmont City, Red Bud, Steelville and Tilden.

Roundtable Supper at Wilson Park Tuesday

Cubmaster, den mothers, pack committeemen and other Cub Scout leaders from the Quad-City area, together with their families, are invited to take part in the roundtable, according to Mrs. Pat Fone, who is helping to arrange the event. Families and individuals attending should bring their own picnic lunch. Beverages will be provided by the roundtable committee, Mrs. Fone advised.

New Illinois Constitution First in U. S. Assuring Equal Women's Rights

On July 1, the Equal Rights Alliance, an Illinois women's liberation organization, will hold a party and it is inviting all the women of Illinois to attend.

The reason for the celebration is the new Illinois Constitution—first in the nation with an equal rights provision. It goes into effect July 1.

Noontime festivities in the Civic Center Plaza, traditional site for Chicago rallies, is planned by the Alliance Chapter there. Similar events in other Illinois cities are scheduled by area chapters.

An Alliance spokesman—commented, "the victory was won after a fight that was of much shorter duration but just as intense as the struggle for the vote."

"In the summer of 1969, the Alliance recognized the opportunity afforded by the convening of a state constitutional convention. It called upon other women's organizations to mount a joint effort to get an equal rights provision in the new constitution."

"After the field of Con Con hopefuls had been narrowed to four in each of the state's 58 districts, a letter was sent to all candidates, asking whether they were in favor of discrimination against women or against it."

"They were asked to sign a pledge card to the effect that, if elected, they would support a binding provision against sex discrimination."

"Non-signers were challenged in public meetings. When the dust had settled, one out of every three Con Con delegates went into the convention pledged to support equality under the law for all women and men."

"The campaign then went into another phase. The Alliance coordinated testimony before the Bill of Rights Committee when it toured Illinois cities."

"Women from all walks of life, tired of second-class status, spoke, prompting a committee member to note, 'We have heard more testimony on an equal rights provision than on any other single issue.'"

"All to no avail. The committee refused to recommend an equal rights provision in its report to the full Convention. The campaign went into another phase."

"Odas Nicholson, delegate to the Illinois Constitutional Convention, agreed to act as chief sponsor. In brilliantly planned and executed strategy, she introduced the provision at the second reading of the Bill of Rights package. This was a calculated risk, as the Convention was nearing the end of its deliberations. A negative vote would kill the provision."

"The final vote, 94-7, did not indicate how close the fight was. Faced with the prospect of being branded 'anti-women' for the rest of their political careers, many not-dragging delegates voted Yes, even though they had fought against the measure."

Perhaps they remembered recent examples of men denied high office because of past civil rights opposition."

The new Section 13 of the new Constitution's Bill of Rights: "The equal protection of equal rights shall not be denied or abridged on account of sex by the state or its units of local government and school districts."

"It means that no law can be enacted or administrative practice introduced that treats citizens differently because of their sex; existing laws or practices that do are unconstitutional and can be challenged in the courts on that basis."

"Together with Section 17, which forbids discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, national ancestry and sex in employment and the sale and rental of property, Illinois women will have stronger protection against bias than any other American women starting July 1. No wonder they plan to celebrate."

"Individuals who wish to comment on the day in cities where no Alliance chapter exists may contact the central headquarters at 312/249-5776 for more information."

Newlyweds Advised to Consider Tax Angle; Compute Taxes Ahead

Should a June bride take her CPA along on her honeymoon?

Not necessarily, but it might be a good idea to check with him when she gets back.

Robert F. Dickey, president of the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants, points out that marriage changes one's income tax status, especially if both husband and wife plan to continue working.

If they don't arrange to have withholdings from their paychecks coincide with their anticipated tax obligations, they may end the year owing considerably more than has been withheld."

The problem arises, Dickey said, from the fact that the withholding charts do not take into account the possibility that the taxpayer's spouse also has income, moving him into a higher tax bracket.

To avoid having too little tax withheld, working newlyweds should compute what their taxes for the year will be, based on filing both joint and individual returns to determine which results in the lesser tax liability. Then the newly married couple should ask their employers to withhold enough to cover the expected taxes.

One reason for a working couple to file separate returns, the ICPA president noted, would be heavy medical bills incurred by one of them. Three percent of adjusted gross income must be subtracted from such bills before they can be deducted and three percent of one's income is less than three percent of both.

In some instances, provisions of the 1969 Tax Reform Act that took effect this year favor single taxpayers over married ones, a reversal of the policy that has prevailed since 1948.

If both man and wife have substantial incomes, they may find themselves paying more taxes than they would if single.

They can't avoid this by filing separate returns, the CPA Society officer explained, because the lower rates apply only to unmarried individuals.

If both husband and wife are employed, however, they will be helped by another new provision which affords more favorable tax treatment for earned income.

Number of Children With Mothers Who Work Rose Sharply in Decade

The number of children with mothers in the labor force increased sharply during the decade ending in 1970. Nearly 26 million children under 18 years old had mothers who were working or looking for work in March 1970, according to latest survey results, reported by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Almost six million of these children were under six years old, requiring some kind of care when their working mothers were away from home. Ten years earlier, 15.7 million children under 18 had working mothers, and about four million were under age six.

The substantial increase in the number of children whose mothers were in the labor force results from both the greater population of children—66.7 million in 1970 versus 59.9 million in 1960—and the rising propensity of women to work, even mothers with pre-schoolers. Thirty percent of mothers with children under six were in the labor force in March 1970 compared with 19% a decade earlier.

Families with working mothers had fewer children, on average, than those with mothers who did not work outside the home. This relationship held true for families with a woman as the head as well as for two-parent families.

Children with mothers in the labor force were in higher-income families, on average, than were children whose mothers were neither working nor looking for work.

In two-parent families, median family income in 1969 was $11,732 if the mothers were in the labor force, compared with $9,884 if they were not. In families with a woman at the head, the median was $4,651 if they were working and $2,988 if not.

These findings are from the new report of the annual survey of marital and family characteristics of workers, conducted for the Bureau of Labor Statistics by the Bureau of the Census.

Cougar Golfers Receive Bid to NCAA Tourney

For the second consecutive year, the Southern Illinois University-Southeastern Golf team has been chosen to participate in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s college division tournament. The tourney will be held June 15-18 at Chico State College, Chico, Calif.

The Cougar golfers, coached by Harry Gallatin, finished their regular season with a 22-8 record and were one of five schools picked to compete from the midwest district.

Tom Kammann, senior from Belleville West, paced the Cougars during the season with a 76.50 average, but just managed to edge Mark Boyajian, also of Belleville, by one stroke, 1590 to 1581. Boyajian's 18-hole average was 76.55.

Razor close in third place was another Belleville native, Chuck Eckley, with a 77.45 figure. Edwardsville's Bob Blariks was in fourth place with 78.50. St. Louis was Marty Baker (McCluer High), 81.87, Pete Butkovich (Wood River), 83.63 and Tony Beckman of O'Fallon took Wingert (Alton), 84.90.

Triple-header Program Set At Speedway Friday Night

The mighty midgets will join the super sprints and the late model stock cars for Friday night's race program at the Tri-City Speedway.

Among the midget drivers here will be the 1970 St. Louis champion, Bert Wilson of Kirksville, Mo., and 1968 champion Joe Walter of Kansas City, Mo.

Wilson won the midget features in the first and third tripleheaders at the track last year and Walter claimed victory in the division in the second triple-header of last year.

A challenger in the midgets will be Wil Spalding of Granite City who has entered in all three divisions. Spalding will be chauffeur the Gus Shon Offenhauer midget which is driven in U.S. Auto Club competition by Bruce Walkup and Gary Bettenhausen. Spalding will also be at the wheel of his No. 444 Camaro and his No. 32 super sprint auto.

He has apparently worked the bugs out of the new sprinter as he placed second in the sprinter feature Saturday night at the Capital City Speedway in Jefferson City, Mo., and won the tri-city dash and placed second at Sedalia, Mo., Sunday.

Others who will be driving in more than one category include Ronnie "Gomer" Taylor of St. Louis.

Louis who will be driving the Gus Doolin Sisco Chevrolet midget and the Art Range sprinter, Bobby Jones of Danville in his No. 87 sprinter and a Chevy II powered sprinter from Chicago, and Larry Kirkpatrick in the new Lyle Hartzel sprinter and a midget.

As of today 26 midgets had been entered for Friday night. About 25 sprinters and 20 late model stock autos are expected to compete.

The regular super sprint lineup is expected with the exception of Bill Utz. Utz's No. 88 sprinter lost a fuel cap during the feature race at Jefferson City Saturday night, the fuel spilled onto the exhaust pipe and the car leaped into flames.

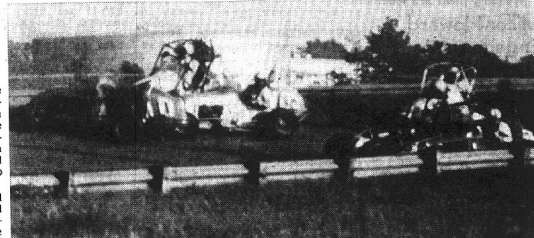

Utz suffered third degree burns to his hands and arms. He has been released from the hospital but will not return to the lineup until July, according to doctors.

Joining Lineup

Joining the weekly lineup of late model stock drivers Friday will be Paul Kerns and Paul Winn, both of Kirksville and both driving 1970 Camaros.

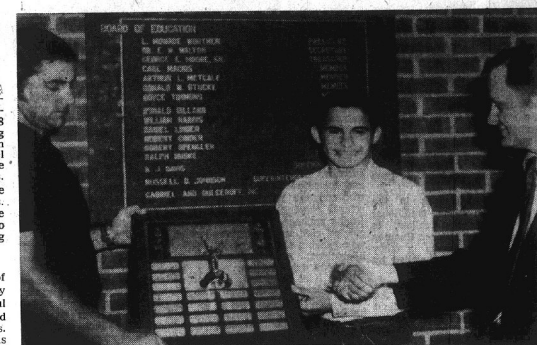

Harold Workman of St. Louis also has entered his Chevrolet II and Bobby Minor, feature winner at Jefferson City Saturday, has entered.

There will be no heat races Friday night as three trophy dashes and 20 lap features will monopolize the evening. Qualifications for the 70 or more cars will begin at 7 p.m. and racing is scheduled to begin at 8:30.

ROUGH MIDGET ACTION will be a highlight at the Tri-City Speedway Friday night as the midgets join the super-sprints and the late model stock cars for a triple-header program. This photo was taken during the last triple header at the local track last year shows a six-car pileup in the third turn.

Teams playing in the NCAA meet will be composed of five members with scores of the four lowest over 72 holes counting.

OUTSTANDING GRIGSBY ATHLETE Phil Shands, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shands, 129 East Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, being congratulated by Joseph Fedora, right, director of athletics for Granite City Schools. At left is Ron Yates, advisor to the Grigsby Junior High School Lettermen's Club. Shands lettered in football, wrestling and track. His name will be placed on the plaque along with Kevin Dyer, 1968-69 choice, and Dave Macios, 1969-70 recipient.

State Boat Registration Renewals Due June 30 from Half of Owners

The 1971 boating season is at hand for mariners whose boat registration is up-to-date, Kenneth E. Gruenewald, chief of the Illinois Department of Conservation boating section, points out.

He reminded those who would use a boat having an expired registration certificate that they face the prospect of arrest and a fine under the Illinois Boat Registration and Safety Act. Deadline for certificate renewal is June 30.

Gruenewald explained that if a boater fails to renew his certificate prior to the June 30 expiration date, the number is cancelled. The owner must remove it from his craft and register. This often means scrapping and repainting the boat, as well as additional time loss on processing the application.

Unless a craft is removed permanently from the state or its registration is not renewed every two years, it retains for its lifetime the watercraft number initially assigned, Gruenewald pointed out.

Expiration notices and renewal applications are mailed months in advance to all boat owners whose certificates are due to expire, he said.

Half Affected This Year Gruenewald also said the biennial certificate expires for one-half of the state's 172,000 mechanically-powered boats each year. Through April, the state had received only 33,914 of 86,000 potential 1971 renewals, he reported.

"This means that more than a quarter of the boats in the state are not yet re-registered and may have to remain beached or tied to their docks until the season opens," Gruenewald said. He noted, however, that the renewal pace is about even with last year's.

Canoes, rowboats and sailboats less than 12 feet in length are exempted from registration, he said.

Gruenewald urged owners to submit their application as early as possible to avoid the annual eleven-hour flood of registrations and its resulting delays in processing.

Seek Bigger Tax Share With the expiration this year, Gruenewald and his staff included a questionnaire designed to help conservation officials determine what percentage of state motor fuel consumption is attributable to boat motors and whether boat programs are receiving their rightful share of motor fuel taxes. It is suspected that boating is receiving up to one million dollars less than its proper annual share of these revenues.

Gruenewald commended boating enthusiasts for their response to the questionnaire. He said 18,000 of the first 14,000 certificates renewal applications included a completed fuel-use questionnaire.

"That is a fantastic response to a poll. I am told that 50% to 60% is considered excellent," he said in urging that boaters continue to return the survey sheets.

In addition to financing construction of roads and stress throughout the state, motor fuel taxes pay for construction of boat motors, marinas, launching facilities and fund law enforcement, boat safety and education programs, Gruenewald said.

3 Prep Wrestlers To Attend SIU-SW

Three standout Illinois high school wrestlers have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, it was announced by Larry Kristoff, the Cougars' mat coach.

The trio are Robin Rummel, Peoria; Edward Wendell, Park Forest; Chicago; Leo Schlee, Aurora.

Rummel, who Kristoff calls a "real sleeper" because he wrestled as a heavy-weight in his final prep season, although he weighed-in at only 177 pounds, posted a 25-10 record in the heavier division.

Wendell, wrestling in the 167-pound division on the Park Forest High team, posted a 25-21 record.

Schlee, a member of the Aurora East High team four years, posted an overall prep record of 81-10-1, including 49 victories by pins. He will wrestle in the 142-pound division.

As a senior, Schlee lost only twice. The two defeats were to the Illinois state champion, John King of DeKalb.

Canoes, rowboats and sailboats less than 12 feet in length are exempted from registration, he said.

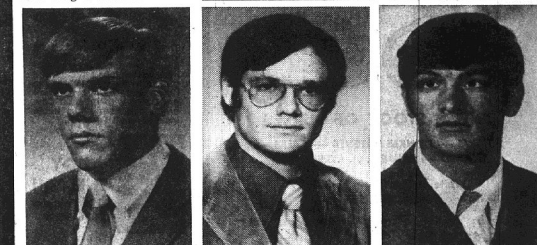

Gruenewald urged owners to submit their application as early as possible to avoid the annual eleven-hour flood of registrations and its resulting delays in processing.

Seek Bigger Tax Share With the expiration this year, Gruenewald and his staff included a questionnaire designed to help conservation officials determine what percentage of state motor fuel consumption is attributable to boat motors and whether boat programs are receiving their rightful share of motor fuel taxes. It is suspected that boating is receiving up to one million dollars less than its proper annual share of these revenues.

Gruenewald commended boating enthusiasts for their response to the questionnaire. He said 18,000 of the first 14,000 certificates renewal applications included a completed fuel-use questionnaire.

"That is a fantastic response to a poll. I am told that 50% to 60% is considered excellent," he said in urging that boaters continue to return the survey sheets.

In addition to financing construction of roads and stress throughout the state, motor fuel taxes pay for construction of boat motors, marinas, launching facilities and fund law enforcement, boat safety and education programs, Gruenewald said.

TERRY FRALEY

Kentucky Cager Chooses SIU-SW

Terry Gene Fraley, 18, an all-eastern Kentucky, all-star high school basketball choice for two years, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. Cougar head coach Jim Dudley has announced.

Fraley, a wingman from Ashland, Ky., averaged 21.9 points per game his senior year as a member of the Sandy Hook High School basketball team. He was 71.6 from the free-throw line and hit at a 47.8 clip from the floor.

He's 6-2" and weighs 185 pounds. He scored 1389 points in two seasons as a starting regular and averaged 11 rebounds a game.

Mishap at Signal

A Laclede Steel Co. station wagon driven by Joseph M. Peretti, Wilsonville, Ill., stopped for a traffic signal, was struck from behind by a car driven by Sandra S. Vest, 2612 Madison Ave., Tuesday at 27th Street and Madison. She said her accelerator stuck.

JIM SCOTT

Madison's Scott Stars on Team At Wesleyan U.

Jim Scott, former Madison High School athletic star whose home now is in Collinsville, was Illinois Wesleyan University's second leading hitter the past baseball season with a .319 average.

He had 29 hits in 91 times at bat, scored 10 runs, led the team in doubles with six and added a triple and home run. Scott, a sophomore, started every game at first base. He drove in 13 runs.

"Jim became a fine defensive first baseman by the end of the year. He showed signs, particularly in our closing double-header against Carthage, of becoming an outstanding hitter," said Coach Jack Horenberger.

Scott rapped out two doubles and a single in seven trips against Carthage, driving in three runs. His double in the seventh inning of the opener batted in the tying run as Wesleyan scored three runs to snap Carthage's 14-game winning streak in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin.

Scott's double also drove in two runs that broke a 7-7 tie in the eighth inning of a 10-7 victory over Eastern Illinois earlier in the season.

The 165-pound sophomore batted .348 in CCW play.

His availability for two more seasons is a major reason Horenberger thinks the Titans will be back in contention for the CCW championship next season after a fourth-place finish in 1971. It was only the fourth time that Wesleyan had finished below second in baseball since the conference was formed for the 1946-47 school year.

MOST VALUABLE COUGAR CAGER. Rich Essington, right, who receives his "Most Valuable Player" basketball award from Southern Illinois University-Southwestern cage coach Jim Dudley at third annual intercollegiate athletic awards banquet. Essington, a senior from Venice, led the Cougars in scoring during the 1970-71 season.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Scott Jr. Jim Bone, a junior from Collinsville, was hitting .273 and playing right field when he was declared scholastically ineligible after Wesleyan's 19th game.

Bone had such great desire to play that he had taken up catching early in the spring after being a relief pitcher and reserve infielder his first two seasons.

Then, Horenberger's outfielder corps was depleted in injuries and ineptitude. Bone got a chance in the season's fifth game and didn't leave the lineup until he fell victim of the books.

He made a game-saving catch against Eastern Illinois, receiving a concussion in the process. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bone.

Keen 1st Again In Cycle Race

Neal Keen of St. Louis faced his toughest challenge of the year during Tuesday night's motorcycle race at the Tri-City Speedway as Charlie Chapple of Flint, Mich., shared the lead with him several times during the 10-lap feature race.

Chapple finished one foot behind Keen's Yamaha.

Chapple managed to claim victory over the track's point leader in the trophy dash and tried to leave Keen in his dust in the feature but was unable to hold the lead.

Keen and Chapple were the winners in their respective heat races and Gordon Dunsbury of Wichita, Kan., turned in the fastest time trial.

FASTEST MAN IN SIU-SW HISTORY. George Tyus, right, from Madison, named "Most Valuable Track Runner" at third annual intercollegiate athletic awards banquet. He received his trophy from Track Coach Jack Whitted. Tyus will represent SIU-SW in the NCAA college division track and field meet to be held in California.

2 Prep Soccer Stars Signed

Two standout members of the St. Louis SECO soccer team which won the national junior cup championship in October last week have signed letters of intent and will enroll at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern this fall, Bob Guelker, the Cougars' soccer coach, has announced.

The two are Paul Gentile and Bill Barron. Gentile, a Christian Brothers High graduate, is the younger brother of Carl Gentile, who was an All-American soccer player under Guelker at St. Louis University. Gentile is a forward.

Barron, a Prep South graduate, is the brother of Cougar soccer player John Barron, a forward. Bill is a linkman.

"Both of these young men will help SIU-SW expand its soccer program," Guelker predicted. The Cougars have qualified the past two years for post-season NCAA university division tournament play, losing both times to the eventual champion, St. Louis University. The Cougars were eliminated by the Billikens, 2-1, on a last second shift in the 1970 Midwest NCAA regional finals.

What's going to happen at 3 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park Diamond No. 8?
Why, a friendly, frolicking, funny farce featuring the fabulous, first-class, favorite Fuzz in a rematch with the fleet-footed, fair-haired, fantastic Freaks.
Last winter, the Freaks (PAC group—People in Action for the Community) gained a one-point basketball victory over the Fuzz (Quad-City area law enforcement officers) before a crowd of 300 at the YMCA gymnasium. The renewal of the contest will feature softball teams formed especially for the occasion. The public is being invited to attend.

$22,000 Released for State Building Study

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has taken the first step toward keeping his promise to the voters of East St. Louis that if they elected Republican James E. Williams Sr. as mayor, he would see that a proposed $1-million regional state office building would be constructed in East St. Louis, rather than elsewhere in the Illinois Metropolitan area.
In a letter to Williams Tuesday, the Governor said that he had released $22,000 to the Illinois Department of General Services for preliminary planning and site location studies for the structure. He said he will ask the General Assembly this fall to appropriate funds for construction next year.
A tract for the building was donated to the state by Collinsville in 1968 but the 1970 Legislature voted to return the land to the Collinsville Chamber of Commerce.

Open to the public, the benefit event will take place from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday in the library building, 1700 Fifth St., Madison.

An estimated 800 volumes will be available for sale, ranging in price from five cents to $1. Books contributed to the fair include novels, reference material, text books, dictionaries, atlas, activity and handicraft works, condensed novels and many periodicals and children's books.

Federal Erectors, Inc. of East Alton has been awarded a $51,200 contract for steel work on a protective acoustical shell to be erected at the Mississippi River Festival site at SIU-SW campus, according to Robert Murray, SIU purchasing officer.

Murray said the company will put up the structure's steel skeleton and its three-inch corrugated steel walls and roof. The steel skeleton comprises the bulk of the work on the $75,000 shell, which was designed to protect the stage and audio equipment without affecting acoustics.

The SIU-SW work force will pour the foundation for the shell and Federal Erectors, Inc., will begin work on the structure Monday. Expected completion date is June 23.

Half the funds for the shell will come from the student welfare and recreation fund and half from the university's operating budget. A new $25,000 tent which will be attached to the shell to cover the audience area has been ordered and is expected to arrive in time for the festival. The festival will open July 10 and continue through Aug. 16.

Involvement by Citizens Urged

Granite City Rotarians on Tuesday viewed a film, "Get Involved," produced by the Greater Alton Association of Commerce, and heard talks by Alton Chamber President Nick Maggos and Alton Police Chief Rudy Sowders. Maggos is president of the Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling Co.

It was emphasized that police deserve public backing and that citizens can reduce crime by alerting offices about potentially suspicious conditions and actions. Permissiveness and apathy were assailed.

Liaison officers are being used successfully to acquaint police and the public, including teenagers, the club was told. President-elect Albert H. Fremling presided and Walter Milton was program chairman. Guests included Chief Kenneth Veizer and Assistant Chief Georg Teller of the Granite City police department.

Page Withdraws from Second Proposed Job

Former State Supt. of Public Instruction Ray Page asked Tuesday that his nomination as assistant regional administrator of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency be withdrawn. Previously, he withdrew after being nominated for regional U. S. commissioner of education.

State Supt. Michael J. Bakalis, who defeated Page in the 1970 election, has called a hearing in Chicago June 11 for the Bryant and Stratton Educational Center, a private school, to show cause why it should not be closed. Published reports allege that Page directed keyperson training contracts to the school and that its operator contributed heavily to his campaign.

Home Notes

BOMBS AWAY—SAFELY

In this age of the aerosol can, you need to be wary of potential "bombs" around your home.

Improper use or disposal can turn the common aerosol can into a hazardous explosive.

Aerosol cans with insecticide—their original use—were first called "bug bombs." Now they're used for a variety of products, including starches, waxes, whipped cream, paints, hairspray, shaving cream and shoe polish. Actually, most families have 25 or more pressurized cans stored around the home.

Aerosol can explosions may result in the loss of an eye, cuts and sometimes fatal injuries. To prevent this hazard, never subject a can to temperatures of 120 degrees Fahrenheit or more.

Other safety rules to follow when using and storing aerosol cans:

—Never leave a can in the sun, especially in a closed car.

—Never leave a can on a warm surface, such as a stove.

—Don't incinerate an aerosol can.

—Avoid puncturing the can.

—Have aerosol cans hauled away.

—Treat a spray can with the same respect you would any other explosive device.

SPRING CLEANING FOR SAFETY

When going about your annual spring cleaning activities, take the extra time to protect your family from accidents.

More accidents occur in the home than any other place. And proper home safety measures could prevent most of these accidents.

No plan for storage is one reason for many home accidents. Among the major causes are objects left on floors and steps and makeshift ladders being used to reach stored objects.

When spring cleaning your house, make note of the following storage situations and correct them if necessary:

—Frequently used shelves shouldn't be higher than 72 inches from the floor. Adjustable shelves permit you to place articles so that you'll have a firm grasp when storing or removing them.

—Check to be sure that shelves of storage units adequately support the weight of the objects stored on them without tipping or collapsing. Glass shelving should be the shatter-proof type.

—Storage space should be well lighted. Closets deeper than three feet need electric light. To avoid a fire hazard, don't stack stored items so high that they come in contact with the bulb.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., June 3, 1971 Page 17

—Store poisons and medicines in well marked containers. Place containers out of reach of children and keep the cabinets locked.

—Remove stored clutter, such as rags, newspapers, discarded clothing and trash that could be fire hazards. Keep oily rags and highly flammable solutions in tightly closed metal containers, and store them outside the house.

—Make provisions for safe storage and disposal of pins, razor blades, scissors, knives, matches and pressurized cans.

CHEESE HINTS

Don't discard Cheddar, Swiss or Italian varieties of cheese that have become dry and hard from prolonged storage. Grate them for use as flavoring or garnish for various dishes.

Incorrect wrapping or moist conditions may cause natural cheeses to develop mold spots. The mold is usually a harmless form and doesn't affect the remainder of the cheese for eating purposes unless it penetrates too deeply into the cracks. Simply scrape off surface mold or cut away portions of the cheese with mold penetration.

You can expect properly whipped cream to double in volume. Use a cold bowl, cold beaters and cold whipping cream. Whip the cream before adding sugar and flavorings.

Miss Illinois to Appear at Miss GC Pageant

Lynn Alexander of Springfield, the reigning Miss Illinois, has accepted an invitation to take part in the 1971 Miss Granite City Pageant. Jan J. Langenstein, chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored project, announced today.

The lovely, dark brown-eyed brunette, who represents the state of Illinois at last year's Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J., will meet with local candidates and the public Thursday evening, June 24 when the Granite City Pageant is staged at the Washington Theatre.

Tickets are now on sale to the public at area business firms, or may be obtained from members of the Granite City Jaycees and Jaycette organizations. Theatre seats downstairs cost $5 per person, while balcony seating is $3 each person, Langenstein said.

The state beauty queen will join in her appearance here—Miss Judi Ford of Belvidere, Ill., a former Miss America.

The former national title-holder also has accepted an invitation to attend the Granite City Pageant and bestow the crown of office on the 1971 local winner.

This year's beauty-talent contest will be combined with an extensive program of entertainment. Langenstein advised with several widely-acclaimed musical artists performing for the pageant audience. The new Miss Granite City also will serve as queen of the community's 75th Diamond Jubilee celebration in August, representing the city at all official Jubilee functions and special events, Mayor Donald Partney recently announced.

MISS ILLINOIS, Lynn Alexander of Springfield, who will be among the celebrities to greet the new Miss Granite City at the local pageant and crowning June 24 at the Washington Theatre. Tickets for the beauty talent extravaganza are now available from Granite City Jaycees, Jaycettes and area merchants.

Slight Advance in Purchasing Power

Purchasing power of the nation's rank-and-file workers rose slightly in April for the second straight monthly increase, the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. The small advance in real earnings resulted entirely from an increase in average hourly earnings.

Gross average weekly earnings of production and non-supervisory workers advanced to $124.75 in April, a gain of 73 cents from March's $124.02, or 0.6%, from April 1970.

The over-the-month increase was attributable to a two-cent advance in average hourly earnings, as the average work week remained unchanged. After adjustment for price increases, gross weekly earnings were 0.3% above the March level and 1.9% above a year ago.

Spending earnings—average weekly pay after deduction of federal income and Social Security taxes—rose by 59 cents to $109.54 in April for the worker with three dependents. Compared with a year earlier, home pay was up by $6.59, or 6.4%.

Real spendable earnings in 1967 dollars to reflect changes in consumer prices averaged 0.2% higher in April than a month earlier for the worker with three dependents.

At $91.13, real take-home pay was 2.0% above a year ago but still 1.9% below the all-time peak of September 1968 ($92.85).

Over-the-month increase occurred for workers in all major industries except manufacturing and finance, insurance and real estate.

Jobless Claims Drop

Both the number of unemployed persons filing initial claims for unemployment insurance and the number receiving jobless benefits dropped substantially for the week ending May 15, Assistant Secretary of Labor Malcolm R. Lovell Jr. has announced.

Initial claims totaled 230,200 for the week — or 26,000 below the figure for the previous week and 12,100 less than for the corresponding week a year ago.

Forty-one states reported lower volumes — the largest reduction occurring in California (10,500), followed by Michigan (3,200), New York (2,900) and Pennsylvania (1,400).

Insured unemployment totaled 2,078,300 for the week ended May 8 — a drop of 63,400 from the previous week but 340,300 higher than for the corresponding week a year ago.

The insured unemployment rate edged down to 3.3% from the previous week's 4.0%. A year ago, the rate was 3.3%.

Forty-six states reported lower volumes of insured unemployment — the largest reductions occurring in California (6,400), Michigan (4,900), New Jersey (4,500) and Connecticut and Minnesota (4,200 each).

In addition to claimants under the regular programs, 286,844 insured jobless workers filed claims under the extended benefit provisions. In the previous week, 281,744 such claims were filed.

Initial claims under the UCFE program (covering former federal civilian employees) totaled 2,400 in the week ended May 15. This was unchanged from the previous week but 100 less than for the corresponding week a year ago.

The number of claims from ex-servicemen under the UCX program totaled 10,200, which is 300 below the number for the previous week but 600 higher than a year ago.

Insured unemployment under the UCFE program totaled 29,800 for the week ended May 8 — 200 above the previous week's figure. Under the UCX program, this was 600 below the total for the previous week.

Compared with a year earlier, claims were up by 3,500 under UCFE and 45,400 under UCX.

Goods, Services Costlier

The Consumer Price Index rose 0.3% in April to 129.2 (1967=100), the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

The effects of higher prices for most goods and services were moderated by a decline in mortgage interest rates and gasoline prices.

Almost three-fourths of the rise that occurred in April was due to higher prices for food, apparel and used cars.

The April CPI was 4.3% above a year ago, the smallest year-to-year change since August 1968. Prices rose seasonally adjusted basis, the April increase was also 0.3%. This compares with 0.2% in February and March and 0.3% in January.

The annual rate of change for the three months ending in April 2.6%, the same as the December-March period and the smallest such increase since the three-month period ending in June 1967.

Prices of commodities other than food increased at their March rate of 0.3%. Charges for consumer services, which averaged unchanged in March, rose 0.2%.

Fresh Fruit, Vegetables — Prices of food purchased in grocery stores rose 0.9% in April, the third consecutive consecutive increase. About two-thirds of the April increase was due to a larger-than-seasonal increase in fresh fruit and vegetable prices.

Prices of beef and veal, cereal and bakery products, and meat and snacks increased instead of declining as they usually do in April. Pork and egg prices declined more than seasonally. Prices of restaurant meals and snacks consumed away from home increased 0.4%, about the same as in March.

Prices of commodities other than food rose 0.2% on a seasonally adjusted basis. This rise compares with an increase of 0.2% in January and March, and a decline of 0.1% in February. Prices of used cars advanced noticeably for the second month in a row.

Prices of new cars declined seasonally and gasoline prices fell substantially. Apparel commodity prices rose more than seasonally. Price rises for housekeeping supplies, newspapers, and magazines were larger than in recent months.

In April, as in the preceding two months, the effect of declines in mortgage interest rates moderated the overall rise for consumer services.

Charges for most services continued to rise. Auto-insurance rates, property-insurance rates and prices of residential gas increased more than in March; medical-care services and local transit fares advanced more slowly.

YOGURT GAINS POPULARITY

No longer is yogurt a food limited to health zealots or food faddists. A recent study of consumer demand shows that yogurt is popular as a between-meal snack, as a dessert or as part of a noon meal.

Yogurt, the least known dairy product until recent years, is a cultured milk product, usually made from fresh, partially skim milk, enriched by the addition of nonfat dry milk to which a special culture of lactic bacteria is added.

Yogurt has the same nutritive value as the milk from which it's made, a smooth consistency and a tart taste. It's a versatile food that you can use as a dessert combined with fruit, honey, syrup or preserves; as an ingredient to lend richness and smoothness to special dishes; or a snack just plain.

If you want to experiment using yogurt as an ingredient, follow these guidelines for cooking with yogurt:

Spare the heat. Low temperatures and short heating times are best because yogurt may separate.

Retain the consistency of yogurt by folding—not stirring—into other ingredients.

Whenever possible, fold in yogurt no sooner than just before removing the food from the heat.

When adding yogurt at the beginning of the cooking period, prevent the yogurt from separating by stirring in a stabilizer.

ing mixture of flour or cornstarch.

According to National Dairy Council statistics, yogurt sales increased sharply in 1969 to 143 million pounds. This figure represents a 30 percent gain over sales in 1968.

HOMEMADE ICE CREAM

For maximum enjoyment, eat homemade ice cream, sherberts or ices the same day that you make them. The ice crystals in homemade frozen desserts are larger than those in commercial ones.

In addition, ice crystals increase in size during storage so that frozen desserts become unsatisfactory during prolonged storage.

PRETREATMENT REMOVES GREASY STAINS

An attraction for oily soil, such as cream, chocolate, body oils or grease, is one of the disadvantages of the permanent press fabrics containing polyester. Removal of greasy stains on polyester fabrics requires pretreatment before the usual laundry process. Thoroughly rub liquid or dissolved laundry detergent onto the stained area and wash in warm water using the normal amount of detergent.

FASTEN CLOSURES

Fasten zippers and hooks and eyes before laundering your clothing may seem like an unnecessary, bothersome task, but this practice helps avoid

STREET PAVING PROJECT on Roosevelt Avenue

between Rock Road and the Great River Road (FA Route 151) is underway in this view at Morgan Street. Heavy rains turned graded area into sea of mud, prevented residents from entering or leaving their homes on Morgan Street. As a result, city is installing an access road at the deadend of Morgan.

JUDGE KNITS CAREFULLY TO ENSURE SATISFACTION

The endless variety of knit fabrics on today's market offers something for everyone. But it also makes selection difficult because the characteristics of the fabric will affect sewing results and wearing satisfaction.

Be sure to read the label when selecting knits. The label should state the fiber content as well as any possible percentage of shrinkage that may occur. It's especially important to check on shrinkage when buying cotton knits because some can shrink considerably.

Shrinkage is also a problem with some man-made fibers, knits, so be sure to note care information as well as fiber content.

You can judge firmness of the knit by pulling the fabric gently in both the crosswise and lengthwise directions. Most knits are designed to stretch more crosswise and lengthwise to increase ease of fit and comfort of wear.

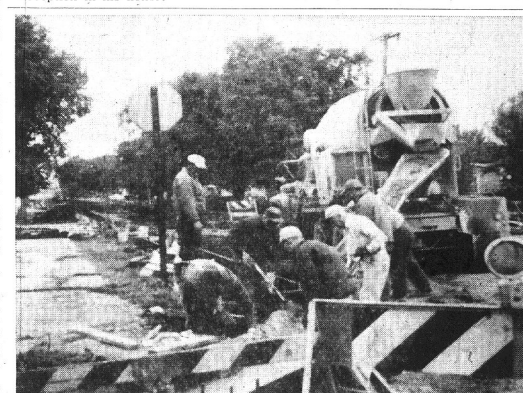

But a fabric that seems to have an exceptional amount of stretch may readily "bag out" of shape and require a great deal of care to regain its original shape. Such a fabric may also be more likely to snag.

You can expect any loosely knit fabric or one with loosely twisted yarns to snag easily. For instance, some of the soft, spongy types of polyester achieve their lovely appearance with loosely twisted yarns. But these fabrics require constant, careful attention to prevent unsightly snags.

Although your pattern may suggest a knit fabric, remember that knits vary in drapability from firm-bodied, heavy fabrics to soft, drapable, lightweight ones. Hold the fabric up to yourself to evaluate its drapability.

Hazardous Jobs Target of Safety, Health Campaign

Assistant Secretary of Labor George C. Guenther has announced that the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) will concentrate on five of the nation's most hazardous industries in the new drive to improve safety and health conditions in the American workplace.

The five target industries are longshoring, roofing and sheet metal, meat and meat products, miscellaneous transportation equipment (primarily mobile home manufacturers), and lumber and wood products.

The target industries, in addition to having high injury frequency rates (the number of disabling injuries per million man-hours worked as compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics), were selected for size of employment and geographic distribution. Taken together, the five industries employ in excess of 1,500,000 persons.

Mr. Guenther said the designation of target industries implements the policy of "worst-first" for reducing job-related injuries and illnesses under the new Act which went into effect April 28. The Act covers an estimated 57 million employees in about 4.1 million places of employment.

Within the five target industries, comprehensive program efforts will be developed in co-operation with both labor and management which are tailor-made to the special problems of each industry, Mr. Guenther said. These cooperative programs will be supplemented by concentrated inspection and consultation efforts by OSHA compliance officers.

Safety Council Participants

The National Safety Council has agreed to participate in the target industry effort. The Council will assist target industry groups in developing their own programs for job safety and health.

The Assistant Secretary gave this rationale for selecting the industries:

Longshoring—An injury frequency rate of 89.9 per million man-hours worked. The industry employs 118,000 workers. Safety and health standards and inspection capability for this industry already are well developed within the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Roofing and Sheet Metal—Highest injury frequency rate in the construction industry—43. The industry employs more than 100,000 workers and is geographically dispersed.

Meat and Meat Products—An injury frequency rate of 38.5. Due to product perishability and marketing characteristics, this industry is well represented in all regions. It employs more than 200,000 workers and has been only partially subject to Federal safety standards in the past.

Miscellaneous Transportation Equipment—This industry, consisting primarily of mobile home manufacturers and including snowmobile makers, has an injury frequency rate of 37.6.

High Injury Rate—Lumber and Wood Products—An injury frequency rate of 36.1. All segments of this industry have a high injury-frequency rate, and total employment is well over a half million workers. The extensive use of cutting, milling and loading equipment and the kinds of operation to which initial safety standards will apply.

According to BLS figures for 1969, the latest available, the average injury-frequency rate for all manufacturing is 14.8 per man-hour worked.

The comprehensive program

effort within the selected industries will not only include the establishment of standards to minimize exposure to specific hazards but will also involve the training of employees and employer representatives to make them aware of their responsibilities to avoid injuries and illnesses.

Sessions with both labor and management are being held in Washington to brief the industries on the program and to solicit their cooperation with the Labor Department.

Mr. Guenther said that by no means will all OSHA resources be devoted to the target industry program. For the first several years of the Act, it is planned that substantial funds will be used to assist the States in improving their capability for safety and health programs and to focus on problems in all industries affected.

He emphasized that all valid complaints will get immediate attention, no matter what the industry. But Mr. Guenther pointed out that by selecting target industries for concentrated efforts, the Department will be able to make immediate progress on a "worst-first" basis in reducing accidents and injuries.

Through activities specifically designed for the industry involved, he also said this procedure will provide useful experience and set an example for improving working conditions everywhere.

Western Union Service Halted by Walkout

Western Union offices in this area and across the country are closed and no telegrams, money orders and overseas cables are being accepted as the result of a strike involving approximately 20,000 members of two unions.

A spokesman in the St. Louis office of Western Union said no wires are being accepted. The Granite City office at 1835 State St. will remain closed until the dispute is settled.

The company will maintain government communications services, although its public offices are closed. Supervisory and engineering personnel are to fill in for striking employees on the government and business communication services, which are largely automated.

Employees of the company are members of the United Telegraph Workers and the Communications Workers of America, both AFL-CIO.

He walked off the job at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday after talks had broken off in dispute over wages and job security.

Regional Report—Commercial, Industrial Developments

(Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation)
The largest commercial bank in the southern part of Illinois is now in this region, following completion of the merger of the First National Bank of Belleville and the St. Clair National Bank of Belleville. The new bank, with assets of $80 million, is a part of the First National Bank of Belleville.

The conversion of the former University Rumber building in Edwardsville to offices was announced. Two-thirds of the new office building is already rented.

In other Edwardsville commercial news, Bassman's Jewelry Store and Rung's Shoe Store will close in June, following the retirement of the stores' owners.

At East Alton, Advance Aviation, Inc., will open a plane sales and aviation school at the Civic Memorial Airport.

Additional land for industry was approved or recommended in St. Clair County. Upon the recommendation of the County Zoning Board of Appeals, the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors has granted a permit to Charles Thomas, St. Clair County, to build and construct and operate a plant to manufacture rulers and wood projects in Millstadt Township, with assets of $80 million, is a part of the First National Bank of Belleville.

Manufacture of steel joists has been discontinued at the Lucille Steel Co. plant in Madison. The firm announced that production of this product was no longer profitable. In 1969, over 500 people were employed at the plant to produce joist products. Manufacture of reinforcing bar products will continue at the Madison plant. Issuance of $788,600 in bonds to replace the sinking Harmony School has been approved by voters of School District 175 in St. Clair County. The bond issue was passed by more than a 2-to-1 margin. Funds for the razing of the Harmony School are included in the bond issue.

In Collinsville, the Board of Community Unit School District 189 has authorized advertising for bids on construction of a 24-classroom addition to the new high school now under construction in the southeast portion of Collinsville. The initial phase of the school, to be used by juniors and seniors, is to be completed by September of this year.

Four administrators have been fired by the board of education of East St. Louis School District 189. The positions that will be vacated are supervisor of purchasing and acting treasurer, director of finance, business manager, and assistant director of cafeteria services.

The Missouri Air Conservation Commission granted Union Electric Co. a one-year pollution variance at the Sioux plant in Alton Lake, across from the northwest portion of Madison County. Union Electric allegedly emits about 570 tons of sulfur dioxide each day from the Sioux plant.

In granting the variance, the Missouri commission agreed with the opinion of Union Electric that no feasible method is now available to cut sulfur dioxide emissions at the plant.

In general area news, the SIU-SW School of Dental Medicine has been granted "accreditation eligible" status by the American Dental Association's Council on Dental Education.

Pride Inc., the greater Alton area beautification organization, has raised 43% of its $10,000 goal; the City of East St. Louis will take over operation of the $1.5 million intensive Training and Employment Program.

The Highland City Council has approved repair of the fountain in the city plaza and Midwest Rubber Reclaiming Co., with a plant in Sauget, reports earnings of 1 cent a share for the first quarter of 1971.

COMING BACK...

Construction started this morning. Even though all the merchandise has not yet been loaded, the contractor is on the job. Basically, the repair of the shell of the building amounts to replacing nine joists, the metal deck that covers the area, and of course, the roof. Some masonry work on the east and south walls also will be done.

Inside is another matter. Here is a summary of what must be done:

1. New wiring in about two-thirds of the building.
2. New ceilings in the same area.
3. New lighting in the same area.
4. Repairs and replacement of various heating and air conditioning units.
5. Replacement of dairy department fixtures.
6. Clean up and paint the rest of the interior.
7. Re-stock with ALL NEW merchandise.

Tamburitz Workshops To Be Held at SIU-SW

Two tamburitz workshops will be held in June and July at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

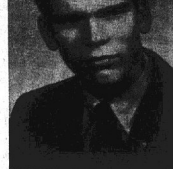

Native to Yugoslavia, the tambura, a picked instrument, is shaped like the guitar and sounds like the mandolin.

Six Saturday sessions in both basic and advanced tamburitz will begin June 12 at 9 a.m. and continue each Saturday through July 26. The basic three-hour workshop will be held in Room 0186 of the Communications Building and advanced sessions will be held in Room 0194.

Sponsored by the Slavic and East European Friends and SIU-SW, the workshops are designed to encourage and develop interest in playing the tambura and to increase appreciation for the music of Slavic and East European nations.

Those who are 12 years old or older and interested in learning the tambura or bettering their skills on the instrument are eligible. Those enrolled will be responsible for obtaining their own instruments. Enrollment will also be responsible for obtaining their own sheet music, which will be available from the instructors.

Tuition for either workshop is $20 for the six sessions. Registration forms can be obtained by writing SIU Extension Services, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026.

Pistol Stolen
Robert Huffman, 323a Madison Ave., Madison, told police Tuesday that a .22 caliber, nine-shot pistol was stolen from the bedroom of his apartment.

June Draft Quota Reduced Sharply

The June draft quota for Madison County calls for only 18 inductions, a substantial cut below the 62 inductions in the May draft call. All inductions and physical examinations are scheduled June 24.

Of those slated for induction, only three are to be from Granite City Selective Service Board 167. The Edwardsville board is to call four inductions and the Alton board has a June quota of 11 men.

Only ten men are to be called for physical examinations this month, one from Granite City, six from Edwardsville and three from Alton. For the first time this year the lottery number for physical examination eligibility has been dropped from 175 to 125. The lottery numbers also remains at 125 for induction calls.

A call for three dentists and one osteopath from Madison County, to be induced July 1, has been cancelled, according to Selective Service officials, due to decreased American involvement in the Vietnam War. One dentist was to be called from each of the three boards and the Edwardsville board is also to call one osteopath for induction.

MANLY FLAGS DISPLAYED ON MEMORIAL WEEKEND
To the Editor:
Only in America do we have the privilege that the Granite City Press-Record has of displaying the manly flags on Memorial Day 1971.

For years, people who care for loved ones who fell in protecting our great heritage have asked, "Why can't more flags wave on this great day?" That was made possible by Steve Konkovich, Alderman Paul Schuler and Donald Parents with the help of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council.

I personally feel that we all owe a big hand to the outstanding Americans, especially Steve Konkovich, who represented the American flag. It was worked very hard to get the scores of flags mounted all along Madison Avenue.

While he was being turned down in his drive by one group, he was soliciting another group. It's men like Steve—no persistence that he could not give a "no" for an answer—who make America what it is. Only in America can you pursue the farthest limits of your capabilities.

I was amazed to see both young and old at the ceremonies Sunday to honor the war dead. I saw Americans there and it made me proud to be an American.

I don't mean to take away from others who worked hard for that day either the DAV, DUV and all other veterans' organizations. Granite City owes all of you a salute. Thank you much.

FAVORS WAR WITHDRAWAL FOR PROMISE OF TALKS
To the Editor:

An unpublicized but encouraging development has taken place for Granite City citizens who are seeking the most rapid end to the Vietnam war and return of U. S. prisoners of war. Congressman Melvin Price has stated that he will support legislation that sets a date for the end of the war if the North Vietnamese would begin genuine negotiations for the release of prisoners of war and other important withdrawal aspects within 15 days of a specified date.

Such legislation, the Nedzi-Whalen Amendment to the Demoorings of appeal to a degree of refinement in upholding technicalities in the protection of individual rights and the maintenance of due process through a system of law.

This conservation of freedom has been safeguarded and more clearly defined by court decisions throughout the years.

Yet, guilty defendants in some courts today might be given their rights; "Never mind my fundamental rights; dip up a legal technicality in the law is more important than truth."

Sometimes, law enforcement officers attribute a part of the blame for the crime problem to legal technicalities used by some courts to free the obviously guilty.

Those who disagree charge that police officers do not understand the difference between a technicality and a fundamental right.

Interestingly enough, some highly distinguished and respected jurists from time to time have supported law enforcement's stand.

Indeed, Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States itself have voiced alarm over the "technicality" issue.

In dissenting from reversal of a conviction in 1961, Justice Frankfurter, long acknowledged as a great champion of fundamental rights, repeated a warning against interpreting a "bare technicality" between a defendant and his just conviction.

While quoting with approval from a similar charge made earlier by Chief Justice Taft, Mr. Justice Frankfurter commented:

"More than a half-century ago, William H. Taft, reflecting his wide experience even before he became Chief Justice, laid this charge at the door of the courts:

"... The... disposition on the part of the courts to think that every provision of every rule of law in favor of the defendant is to be strictly enforced, and even widened in its effect in the interest of the liberty of the citizen has led

Price stated his position on a withdrawal date to Walter Mehl of Edwardsville in response to Mehl's presentation of a petition with more than 3,000 signatures in support of a fixed withdrawal date.

The petition, developed by the Madison County Citizens for Peace group, was handed to Congress. Price at the recent U. S. Population Center celebration at Mascoutah, Ill.

Price's willingness to move in this direction can be counted as a significant step on his part toward realistically assessing the human costs in death, wounds, disability, drug addiction, trauma, anguish, and environmental destruction, and money that are the continuing outcomes of this undeclared war.

ARTICLE OUTLINED VOLUNTEER DRIVERS
To the Editor:

Just thought you might be interested in knowing that we had three very good responses to the article that you had in the paper for us regarding drivers for a special cancer patient.

Three men and two women called in and have offered their services. As a start, this will be a nucleus for any patient that will be needing our transportation service.

The patient in question for this emergency had to be cancelled out from the trip to St. Louis because her doctor called our office and said she was unable to stand the trip.

I have contacted each of these people and have asked them if I could use their names for future reference.

I want to sincerely thank you for your immediate cooperation in this emergency and to thank you for your past help when we have needed it.

Backers of the Metro-East Exposition and Performing Arts Center are agreeable to amendment of the investigative procedures if this would make the prospect palatable to the opponents.

The real test will be the Illinois House vote on Senate Bills 1011 and 1012.

If negativism prevails, we question whether the excuses being voiced will fool anybody.

State Welfare Plan Pairs Need For Work, Need to Get Jobs Done
By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE

Few people would argue against the statement that "our welfare system is a mess." But if anything, that statement is not enough.

Illinois — like every other state — has a large number of people who are living on a dole.

And these costs threaten to gobble nearly all of the revenue the state is deriving from the Illinois income tax.

Illinois legislators on both sides of the political fence are looking for the income tax. As a result, Illinois is not yet in the desperate situation of other big industrial states.

The bleeding of the taxpayers is bad enough. What's far worse, however, is the way the present welfare system feeds on its own failures.

The GOP message seems to be, "Exposition centers are okay for us Northerners, but you Southerners shouldn't expect equal treatment."

Governor Ogilvie should disavow the stand taken by some members of his party and should actively seek affirmative House action.

Military Regimen No Longer Attractive To The Young; Academy in County Will Close

Change usually comes gradually, and it is difficult to say precisely when a particular milestone was reached. But Saturday, June 3, 1971, will provide a rather clear line of demarcation for Madison County in the changing attitudes of youth toward military service and toward discipline in general.

"Taps" will sound for the last time at Western Military Academy in Alton as the final class graduates. Seventh through eleventh graders will transfer to other schools; faculty members will seek jobs elsewhere.

Part of the problem is economic. Students nationally are being lured away from private institutions by the lower tuition costs at state-supported schools. But Col. Ralph B. Jackson, superintendent, sees the issue as broader:

"The youth counter-culture of today has a much lessening of the military and of this culture is dropped a feeling of anti-militarism. Even without a military program, it would be an impossible struggle. The kids don't want a dress code, and we would still want to have rules and regulations."

"I have sent back all donations from alumni. Donations can't keep the school going if we don't have the students. The present enrollment of 160 compares with 300 at the time he came here in 1952 following the death of his father, Col. Ralph L. Jackson. His grandfather, Col. Albert M. Jackson, had purchased the school and turned it into a military academy in 1888; it was founded as a Latin grammar school in 1879 by Dr. Edward Wyman. Col. George D. Eaton was superintendent from 1919 until being succeeded in 1925 by Col. R. L. Jackson.

Western graduates include William S. Paley, Columbia Broadcasting System board chairman; Lt. Cmdr. Edward H. O'Hare, World War II Congressional Medal of Honor winner for whom O'Hare Airport in Chicago is named; Brig. Gen. Paul W. Tibbets Jr., who piloted the plane that dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima; and Sander Vanocur, National Broadcasting Co. newscaster.

In the Quaternary Academy will be missed the quiet life. Many local residents have attended it, and others have competed against its teams.

As the superintendent says, the commencement day flag-lowering ceremony, which always has an element of sadness, Saturday's ritual, the last, will have special poignancy.

Many Bills, Fortunately, Failing to Pass The Illinois General Assembly This Year

This legislative session seems to have stimulated more than the usual number of questionable bills. Fortunately, many of them — although far from all of them — are being defeated.

The Illinois Senate tabled on May 27 and thus killed 46 bills, which would have made all overtime work voluntary. It may have sounded harmless enough on the surface, but it would have placed Illinois firms and workers under an impossible-to-overcome competitive disadvantage with the other 49 states.

gave them a start in their new homeland. Right now, in a period of economic slowdown, there are simply not enough jobs in private business for those on welfare who can work and want to work.

Yet there is all kinds of work that should be done — in our cities, our hospitals, our parks — everywhere you look.

Faced with these twin needs — to offer work to persons able to work and the need to do things now left undone — I propose a massive public works program for the state and its principal cities.

I don't foresee that the costs will far exceed our present welfare costs, but the public will get the bonus of work performed and the persons put to work will get a chance to gain new dignity which cannot come from a dole.

I think we need to revise the old saying that "any work doing is worth doing well." Any job worth doing is worth doing with pride.

We are destroying people and the fiscal stability of the states with the present system.

It's time to try another way.

Highlights will include lectures by Dean W. F. Lhamon, Dr. Warren D. Cornell and Randall Parrish; vocal selections by Gilbert Wilson; reading of a play by Miss Martha Wylie; and a concert by the Dixie Jubilee Singers.

Ten are petitioning for second papers; most of them have been in classes for the past two years; and their preparation is the subject of a play by Miss Martha Wylie. Naturalization Department. Shriners Aiding Crippled, Burned Children; Parade, Circus Planned

(First of two parts)

The Almad Shrine Temple has been in the news this spring and will remain there during June.

Pointe Charles H. Wagner spoke here to outline a blood contribution program for Almad-area patients at the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children — Burns Institute at Cincinnati.

Chief Rabbi Harold G. Baker Jr. discussed the Masonic and Shrine organizations in a talk at last week's Granite City Rotary luncheon. Baker moved up to the potentate title next year and in 1973 will be accorded additional honors and duties.

The divan of officers currently includes three future Almad potentates from Granite City — Jack Dempsey, Richard Ervick and Donald Adams.

Almad will visit the Quad Cities for a major parade at 8 p.m., Monday, June 14, and circus performances on the following two evenings, June 15-16, at Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Namead Road.

As Chief Rabbi Baker explained, Free Masonry dates back more than 280 years. It has three degrees, and those who attain the third degree are Master Masons. They have mnenes, including lodges 835 and 877 in Granite City.

The lodges in each state are governed by a Grand Lodge headed by a Grand Master. Explanatory or additional degrees are offered in two parallel organizations, the York Rite, which is largely rural, and the Scottish Rite, primarily urban. These cover the fourth through the 32nd degrees. The 32nd degree cannot be sought; it is an honorary degree accorded to individuals for outstanding service, Baker reported.

Master Masons are eligible to join the Shrine, which will mark its 100th year in 1972. Almad Temple in East St. Louis serves "everywhere in Illinois south of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad right-of-way" and also includes Quincy on the western side of the state and Mattoon to the east. There is some geographic competition with the Springfield temple.

One of the two Shrine founders visited Egypt, which inspired the fix worn on the heads of Shriners and also some of the Shrine symbols. The emphasis was fraternal but, after World War I, attention was given to service projects, primarily orthopedic. These are those aged 15 and younger.

Belief in God is stressed along with the service to the crippled children was built in 1922 and the St. Louis hospital in 1924.

Forty-nine years after the program was established, there are 19 hospitals, 100,000 children have been successfully treated for physical handicaps at no cost to the youngsters' families.

Finances come from annual Shrine dues and from contributions. The operating budget tops $30 million a year.

Care is offered to those in financial need regardless of race or religious creed, and the most severe handicaps receive priority.

Treatment of burned children began ten years ago in cooperation with the Brooke Army Hospital at San Antonio, Tex., and has been much research progress as well as rehabilitation of the patients.

The centers are at Cincinnati, Galveston, Tex., and Boston. Leo Lipe of Granite City is a national coordinator of the burns program.

Rapid transportation of the burned to one of the institutes is arranged and efforts are made to discover new methods of treatment. An educational program is carried out in order to discover new methods of treatment. The first two can heal spontaneously if infection does not occur.

Third-degree burns never heal by themselves and require skin grafting. The youngsters during their rehabilitation are given lessons daily. They are exercised and trained to regain function and strength of their muscles and joints.

Surgical techniques correct crippling deformities, such as those occurring in the hands. Many deformities are prevented through use of splints in the early stages of treatment and through specially-designed braces.

Shriners and non-Shriners may give blood. Here are some further facts about the Shriners Burns Institute and the scope of the challenge:

Two million burns occur annually in the U. S. Of these, 230,000 require bed rest and 70,000 victims are hospitalized.

Miss Mary Huffman Wed At Castle AFB, Calif.

Announcement has been received here of the wedding May 8 in California of Miss Mary Martha Huffman of Sacramento, and Army Specialist 5 R. Steven Avey of Atwater.

The ceremony took place at Castle Air Force Base in a setting of yellow and white flowers on the altar, flanked with burning candles in candelabra. Chaplain (Major) John Meyer officiated at the afternoon ritual. The bride and groom are children of Mr. and Mrs. Roy

C. Avey, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Huffman, all of Atwater.

The Huffman family formerly resided in Granite City. The bride's father was in military service 30 years, prior to retirement.

A traditional gown of white crepe with a molded bodice of Guipure lace had long sheer sleeves of lace ending in points at the hands. Satin ribbon marked the raised waistline and a tulle pillowbox, encircled with a band of matching lace, secured a long silk mantilla veil.

The former Miss Huffman carried a circular bouquet of yellow roses surrounded with daisies and greenery. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Laney Huffman, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant and Miss Marcella Black served as bridesmaid. They were attired in long gowns of yellow polyester organza over taffeta.

Mandarin collars and molded bodices were lavishly trimmed with bands of Venice lace and long sheer bishop sleeves terminated in wide lace cuffs. Lace Camelot bandeaus secured their tiered tulle veils and their circular bouquets were made up of yellow daisies and tied with yellow ribbon.

John Nates and David White, ushers, lighted the candles. Mrs. Donald White was vocalist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Joseph Clair, who also provided the wedding processions.

Tricia Chaney was flower girl and her brother, Claus, carried the rings. A reception was held at the Castle AFB Non-Commissioned Officers Club.

The bride and groom are graduates of Atwater High School and Merced College. The bride is a candidate for June graduation from Sacramento State College where she is a member of Phi Kappa Phi honor society.

The newlyweds will live at Redstone Arsenal, Ala., where the bridegroom is serving with the U.S. Army.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Huffman of Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bockisch, an uncle and aunt of Deedheim, Germany.

36 Quad-City Vietnam War Dead

Area Honors Heroes Who Died So That Freedom Might Live

Memorial Day is the day set aside to honor American men who have given their lives for their country.

It is a patriotic day; it is a day of reverence; it had special significance again this week to the families of all Quad-City war dead, including the 36 sons, husbands, fathers and brothers killed in action in Vietnam or in incidents related to the present war.

The death toll of American servicemen in Vietnam now exceeds 52,000. Total casualties in Southeast Asia have surpassed the 450,000 mark.

SIU Alumni to Observe 75th Year on Saturday

The 75th anniversary of Southern Illinois University's Alumni Assn. will be observed at the annual Alumni Day festivities Saturday at Carbondale.

The day will feature afternoon reunions of the class of 1970 and all class years ending in "11" or "6". The traditional banquet will begin at 6:30 in the ballroom of University Center.

The association was organized in 1906. First president was Joseph Bundy, class of '92, and E. R. Renfro, class of '93, was secretary. Its present form began to take shape in 1946 when Orville Alexander, class of '31 and now professor of government, was named the director. Alexander was succeeded two years later by Wayne Mann, class of '42, who in turn was succeeded by Eli G. Lentz, ex-'07. Lentz served until 1953 when the present executive director Robert Odaniell, class of '51, was appointed.

The association now has 40 chapters throughout the United States, plus one in Belgium. There are more than 50,000 alumni.

YOU DON'T CHANGE A CLASSIC, YOU PRESERVE IT. YOU DON'T IMPROVE A CLASSIC, YOU TREASURE IT.

Old Fitzgerald Bottled in Bond is handmade Kentucky Sour Mash Bourbon whiskey in its classic role and form—100 proof, 6 years old.

It has remained unchanged by time and unchallenged by competition. Fads and fashions merely emphasize its unembellished, uncompromised greatness.

Old Fitzgerald Bonded earns your immediate respect. Its flavor is fuller, nuttier, with more body and more presence than other Bourbons you have enjoyed.

This total flavor is possible only in 100 proof—this mellowness only after 6 years in the wood.

Old Fitz Bonded is made, aged and bottled in America's oldest family distillery by Bourbon-only people who honestly care about what they're selling, and who personally see that its quality is forever the same.

They stubbornly and pridefully make Old Fitz Bonded for folks who can appreciate and afford the classic things of life. They consciously and deliberately make it for folks who can distinguish between what is good and what is great. Which is the real essence of sophistication—and an awful lot of fun, too.

UNCOMPROMISED. UNCHANGED. UNCHALLENGED. OLD FITZGERALD BOTTLED IN BOND. 100 PROOF FOR FLAVOR.

Old Fitzgerald Bottled in Bond, 100 Proof, and Old Fitzgerald Prime Bourbon, 86.8 Proof, are always made and bottled by Sitzer-Weller, America's oldest family distillery. Estab. 1849 in Old Louisville, Kentucky.

Dear Citizens:

I am asking all citizens to help me in the coming election for Trustee on the Levee Board.

The present up-hill struggle against the Machine of Madison County is simply a problem for all people. None of us want to lose sight of the danger of one Political Machine becoming so strong that it dominates our Government, year after year, and one generation to the next, without any fear of being held accountable for its conduct in office.

Anyone not tied to the machine must have many volunteers, and lots of money, to get elected to any office in Madison County.

I am asking your help. With an election, there are expenses, and I would appreciate any donation that you can make towards my campaign. Tell your friends, relatives and neighbors to VOTE for Lester Thiele, Trustee for the East Side Levee and Sanitary Board.

Sincerely
LESTER THIELE

Simon Urges More Doctors, Increased Preventive Care

Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon in an address to the Illinois State Medical Society has called for a "partnership between physicians and government to extend and improve life for all Illinois citizens."

Simon's discussion centered on means of resolving the physician shortage and greater efforts in preventive medicine. "Physicians will not only solve these problems candidly and come up with sensible, practical answers, or public officials with less background will come up with answers."

"Defense of the status quo is neither desirable nor practical, both from your viewpoint and the public interest. Working together, we can find solid answers, and make progress."

"More physicians graduated in Illinois in 1974 than graduated in 1934," he noted. "Even the population growth figures make that statistic look bad. And when you consider the numbers of graduates today who specialize and who go into the field of research, the figure is alarming."

Simon suggested: "1) Much more intensive efforts must be made for additional personnel, not only physicians but nurses, dentists, and other technical and para-professional people."

"While present efforts to increase the numbers of needed personnel are welcome, they are not adequate. Some hospitals face bankruptcy because of the shortage of physicians in their communities."

"One community with 12,000 people is without the services of a full-time physician."

"The shortage is not only with physicians. A dentist in East St. Louis tells me that 90% of the dentists there serve 30% of the population, while 10% of the dentists serve 70% of the population."

"A Board of Higher Education study shows that in the southern one-fourth of Illinois, 40% of the adults are almost totally without any dental care. Statewide, almost one-third of the children are without regular dental care."

"2) Scholarship programs must be developed for physicians which will insure more medical personnel in the area within the state designated as the area of greatest need."

"Seventy percent of the physicians who now graduate from Illinois schools end up practicing outside of the state."

"We now give some nursing scholarships with the understanding that there is a commitment to work in mental hospitals in Illinois for at least two years following graduation. A similar program can be developed for physicians to help inner city areas and rural areas of great need."

"3) The physician-volunteer has been of great help in many nations of the world and in many areas of our country. Personal shortage and greater efforts in preventive medicine do some experimenting with the physician-volunteer who could devote a day with pay—once a week or once a month to a community that desperately needs medical personnel."

"This would not be a substitute for a full-time physician, but it could reduce the intensity of the emergency which many communities now face. If such a program was developed systematically throughout the state, it should help our situation appreciably."

"4) Radical reductions in the budgets of our state universities will hurt existing medical programs."

"Budget reductions which represent an emotional reaction to a small percentage of students who have caused violence should not be a substitute for rational examination of requests by the universities."

"5) The general thrust of our effort to preserve life must become much more health oriented rather than disease oriented."

"The great killers increasingly are not contagious diseases but health conditions which can be prevented."

"Some nations with appreciably fewer physicians per 100,000 people in their population have dramatically better longevity statistics, in part because of systematic programs of disease prevention."

"Sweden has 83 doctors per 100,000 population, and yet has half the death rate among middle-aged men that the United States has, with 140 physicians per 100,000 people."

"What should we be doing that we are not? The answers vary from an intensive look at our schools to such simple things as greater utilization of waiting rooms and the time spent in waiting rooms."

"Private infant welfare clinics in Oak Park and Evanston have, for several years, conducted informal discussions and consultations in the waiting room on nutrition needs and other forms of preventive medicine," Simon noted.

"6) We must recognize the role of economics in the entire field."

"It is less expensive to prevent disease than to treat it. But once problems are there, no family should be denied the opportunity for the finest medical attention because of a lack of economic means."

"The poor are frequently denied adequate medical attention because of a lack of personnel where they live. But the group which suffers the most economically from the catastrophic medical crisis is the middle income group, too wealthy to get medical assistance through public aid, and not wealthy enough to afford what is really needed."

"We must recognize these practical, differing problems which these segments of our society face."

"7) Some experimentation with detection centers is desirable. Perhaps a few should be county-based and a few mobile."

"The advantage of the federal system of government is that we can experiment in one state and learn the strengths and weaknesses of an idea without making national blunders. Your guidance and leadership are essential if we are to develop programs that are both meaningful and practical."

"8) Hospital costs must be reduced where practically possible, though."

"9) Greater referral to good nursing homes."

"10) Better preventive programs, particularly for those where the length of stay in the hospital is above average. An emphysema patient, for example, has a hospital stay twice that of the average patient."

"11) Governmental units must speed payments to hospitals so that other patients do not have to bear the load. Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago, for example, is now owed $4½ million by the State Department of Public Aid, part of that balance more than a year old."

"12) The whole field of narcotics and alcoholism needs greater research, with development of proven programs, more trained personnel and more geographically scattered programs."

"13) Environmental hazards to health must be attacked vigorously, sensibly and consistently. Air pollution is a major factor in the rising death toll due to lung cancer, bronchitis and emphysema."

"Water pollution is more visible and no less dangerous. Noise pollution we know little about, but we know enough to start acting decisively if we do not wish to invite further problems."

"14) Sensible programs which encourage exercise must be promoted."

"Why should only a handful of communities in this state have bicycle paths? A mile of bicycle path costs less than 1% of the highway, and promotes health."

"We need more trees in our communities, more parks, more places for outdoor recreation. Such programs would attack heart disease, our No. 1 killer."

"More than 100,000 of our citizens die each year within 60 minutes of the first detection of heart disease."

"More and better hospitals and physicians are not as helpful to that group as good programs of prevention."

"15) We must continue to push programs which discourage cigarette smoking. Physicians have contributed immensely already to saving lives in this field. More needs to be done."

"16) Two medical standards for practice in Illinois do not make sense."

"We should not require a higher standard of medicine with the public at large, than for those in our mental hospitals and institutions for the retarded."

"While there has been an improvement in medical service at state hospitals under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Mental Health, we must move towards eventual elimination of the dual standard."

"17) I urge the state society to take a hard look at the residence situation which many of our senior citizens encounter. I applied what most are doing who are in this field, and yet I have seen human beings living in situations which are intolerable."

"An intensive study by the state society of the total problem would be a major help, and I would welcome the opportunity to work with such a group."

In concluding his remarks, Simon urged the physicians to take a broad look at community problems, rather than a narrow one.

He cited Dr. Gordon Moore, a physician in Alton, as an example of a person who has "enriched a community not only with his practice as a surgeon, but also with his help in improving the beauty of the community, including its park and recreation facilities."

The lieutenant governor also praised the two physicians in his home town of Troy.

"Through we have a population of only 2,100 people, we are pleased with two of the finest physicians in Illinois. The willingness of Dr. Walter Zielonko and Dr. James Adams to extend themselves to assist the people of our community is an illustration of the finest traditions of the medical profession."

Youths Vandalize Pool Hall; Juvenile Charged

A Madison juvenile was arrested at 9:25 p.m. Tuesday and charged with theft after he and a large group of boys entered the Madison Billiard Parlor, 207½ Madison Ave., threw pool balls around the room and fled with a cue stick.

Police noticed four boys at the entrance of the building and when they approached the youths yelled, "the cops are here." At that time a large group of boys emerged from the billiard parlor and fled west on Second Street, police reported. The youth carrying the pool cue was arrested and the rest escaped.

Proprietors of the billiard parlor said that while inside the establishment, the boys threw pool balls around the room, breaking the glass on the top of a pin ball machine.
